How do you benefit when using GlowHost's fully managed dedicated hosting solutions?

Lifetime Hardware Warranty - The hardware on your dedicated server is completely covered by our lifetime hardware warranty. In the event of a hardware problem, we will replace the failed hardware free of charge.

Free Hardware Replacement Service for Life - You pay a flat monthly fee and all labor costs involved with hardware replacement are covered at no charge to you, for life. Other providers charge for "Remote Hands" which can run in excess of $100 per hour.

Easily Add cPanel - Upgrade your dedicated server to cPanel and utilize the power of the number one choice for web administration applications, web hosts, and web host resellers.

Managed Firewall - When upgrading to cPanel, our fully managed dedicated servers will be fitted with CSF, an intrusion detection system and firewall. We manage the firewall and it can be completely customized to your specific needs, or use our pre-configured recommended configuration.

Free setup on new servers and upgrades - Experiencing growing pains? We make it easy for you to expand your infrastructure. Existing clients receive free setup on new servers and upgrades. New clients always receive free setup. Coming from another host? We have you covered there too. We offer a free month of service (after the first paid month) to ease the load on your budget.

Anti-Spam and Antivirus protection - You can always feel secure with GlowHost. We use dedicated spam filtering servers to ensure spam and virus email never makes it to your mailbox.

Load balancing available - Managed hardware load balancers are available upon request. Our highly-reliable load-balancing solution is ideal for any application that demands superior performance. Looking for hosting in The Cloud? We also have Virtual Datacenter and Cloud Server solutions available.

Before you choose, don't shop for a dedicated server based on price alone

Today's hosting customers are smart. We know you want an incredible dedicated server for a low monthly price. But before you consider shopping around for the lowest price on dedicated server hosting, think about what you are getting for the price you pay. Quality dedicated hosting involves a lot of expenses including data center and network infrastructure, technical support staff, security systems, hardware costs, and many other costs associated with keeping your dedicated server running at peak performance.

GlowHost offers high-quality dedicated server hosting backed by a highly-qualified, experienced, and knowledgeable support team – all at a price that fits your budget. We don't sacrifice quality service and support on anything we offer at GlowHost. GlowHost dedicated servers are among the best in the industry, our data center is SAS70 Type II certified, and our support is outstanding.

Lower prices may cause more harm than good

When it comes to dedicated servers and dedicated server hosting, a lower price is not always better. In fact, when selecting a dedicated server hosting provider, do not shop based on hardware specifications for the lowest price possible. Sure you may find other dedicated server providers offering the same hardware for less, but a lower price almost always indicates that an important service is missing like world-class support and redundancy. Or you may end up paying hidden support fees and you may get stuck with arduous cancellation contracts and penalties, an unstable network, blacklisted IP addresses – the list goes on.

Don't get stuck with a hosting provider because they offer the lowest price available. Instead, choose GlowHost and receive high quality dedicated servers and dedicated server hosting backed by our world-class support and services, guaranteed to provide you with the best hosting solutions on the market today. And we include everything you need for reliable, fast dedicated servers and hosting. Give us a try today and see how your money goes even further by choosing GlowHost as your dedicated server hosting provider.

Get started today with the best in dedicated server hosting solutions, available exclusively through GlowHost.
